

DISABILITY AND EQUAL TREATMENT POLICY

The Realistic Trader is committed to ensuring that everyone can participate and benefit from our training. The Realistic Trader is committed to addressing any barriers to inclusion.

Legal framework

The Realistic Trader complies with all disability and equality legislation, and, the Equality Act 2010.

The Equality Act 2010 came into force on 1 October 2010 and consolidated and brought together previous anti-discrimination law into one piece of legislation. The Equality Act establishes nine protected characteristics on the grounds of which it is unlawful to discriminate against a person. These are:

- Age
- Disability
- Gender reassignment
- Sex
- Sexual orientation
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Marriage and civil partnership
- Religion or belief
- Race.

The Realistic Trader is committed to:

- Eliminating unlawful discrimination
- Eliminating harassment
- Promoting equality of opportunity
- Promoting positive attitudes
- Encouraging participation
- Meeting the needs of disabled people, even if this requires more favourable treatment

Admission

The Realistic Trader welcomes all students, including those who have any form of disability. On booking, we encourage students to disclose any disability, or any other need for additional support, to us in order that we can discuss their requirements for support and adjustment with them. We encourage students to discuss any requirements for support or reasonable adjustments at the earliest opportunity, so we can have sufficient time to implement any adjustments. We do however, acknowledge that students may choose not to disclose that they have a disability.

We recognise that a disability may arise, or vary, during a course or membership, and we invite students to inform us of any changes to their circumstances. We apply the same process of reasonable adjustments to students who experience a disability at a later stage to those that inform us of a disability at the outset.

Adjustments and support

The Realistic Trader will make reasonable adjustments to ensure those with disabilities are able to participate in their courses and events, by removing any disadvantage they may face as a result of their disability. The Realistic Trader will also endeavour to provide any additional support to enable delegates to fully engage in and benefit from the courses and events.

The Realistic Trader will endeavour to provide the material in an accessible format, which may include providing a transcript of the video / audio content.

The Realistic Trader will endeavour to ensure that the venue which hosts their events have appropriate access and facilities for those with disabilities.

The Realistic Trader will discuss students' requirements for adjustments and support with the student in advance.

Data protection

All information relating to delegates is provided in confidence and is held securely and is not disclosed or shared without the consent of the individual, in accordance with the Realistic Trader Privacy Policy. All disability disclosure information is treated sensitively. We use information relating to a delegates' disability purely for the purpose of ensuring they are able to participate in the training and events, and to ensure that reasonable adjustments can be made. It may be necessary for the Realistic Trader to share details of the support and reasonable adjustments required with external venues who may be hosting events.

Reviewed: May 2018